COMMUNICATIONS STUDY ABROAD IN France

SKEMA in Southern France

- SKEMA is an international college located in Sofia-Antiopolis France, that offers a wide variety of communications and business courses to English speaking students studying abroad.

- France is a culturally rich country that offers stunning cities, a beautiful coast, and hundreds of quaint small towns. SKEMA is located on the outskirts of Antibes, which is between Cannes and Nice on the Mediterranean Sea.

- Required & collateral courses are offered including: visual communication, writing for the mass media interpersonal com, intercultural com, intro to film, intro to advertising, intro to PR, photography, and many more. All courses are in English!

- Living arrangements: Students live in dorms or apartments.

- Costs To Attend:
  - Tuition: CSUF Tuition
  - Housing: Approximately $2800 semester
  - Food: $250-$300 per month
  - $1500 for airfare

- Advantages:

  - Complete required courses & collaterals while having a once in a lifetime experience.

  - Travel through Europe on weekends. Barcelona, Nice, Genoa and Monte Carlo in Monaco are close by train.

  - Financial Aid: Still qualify for financial aid- which may be increased for study abroad.

    - Still qualify for financial aid, and you may qualify for more!

Contact Dr. Dean Kazoleas, Director of the Maxwell Center for International Communications & Media: dkazoleas@fullerton.edu

For more information go to http://www.skema.edu/campus/sophia-antipolis/

GET MORE INFORMATION AT: WWW.COMSTUDYABROAD.COM