COMMUNICATIONS STUDY ABROAD IN France

SKEMA in Southern France

• SKEMA is an international college located in Sofia-Antiopolis France, that offers a wide variety of communications and business courses to English speaking students studying abroad.

• France is a culturally rich country that offers stunning cities, a beautiful coast, and hundreds of quaint small towns. SKEMA is located on the outskirts of Antibes, which is between Cannes and Nice on the Mediterranean Sea.

• Required & collateral courses are offered including: visual communication, writing for the mass media interpersonal com, intercultural com, intro to film, intro to advertising, intro to PR, photography, and many more. All courses are in English!

• Living arrangements: Students live in dorms or apartments.

• Costs To Attend:
  o Tuition: CSUF Tuition
  o Housing: Approximately $2600 semester
  o Food: $250-$300 per month
  o $1500 for airfare

• Advantages:
  o Complete required courses & collaterals while having a once in a lifetime experience.

  o Travel through Europe on weekends. Barcelona, Nice, Genoa and Monte Carlo in Monaco are close by train.

  o Financial Aid: Still qualify for financial aid- which may be increased for study abroad.

    • Still qualify for financial aid, and you may qualify for more!

Contact Dr. Dean Kazoleas,
Director of the Maxwell Center for International Communications & Media: dkazoleas@fullerton.edu

For more information go to http://www.skema.edu/campus/sophia-antipolis/

GET MORE INFORMATION AT: http://communications.fullerton.edu/maxwellcenter